IRAG Meeting Notes #6

25X1A

1. The sixth meeting of the Information Requirements Advisory Group (IRAG) on 8 March 1968 was chaired by Proctor, (A/DDI). Attending

2. The Chairman announced that the Group would meet again in about three weeks to begin examination of the CIRL as directed by Headquarters Notice 1-70. He asked that in the meantime each member review critically those sections of the CIRL to which his office contributes. The Chairman asked also that the IRS member work with the DDP member and the DCS representative to revise the Agency Requirements Form 986. The IRS member is to table the proposed revisions for discussion by the Group.

3. The meeting then turned to discussion of the validation procedures and criteria and the use of these devices by production components for management of their requirements. Members commented that the procedures were satisfactory and had caused no problems. The criteria were also considered satisfactory, with the exception that Items 3 and 4 could not be applied literally to all requirements. Consequently, the procedures will be issued in their present form, and the criteria will carry an appropriate footnote to Items 3 and 4.
